

DLA recruiters attended the Government & Non-Profit Career Expo at Georgetown University, February 18, 2011

DLA recruiters attended the Government & Non-Profit Career Expo at Georgetown University on February 18, 2011. The event was an opportunity for DLA to market itself to a large number of future and recent college graduates. DLA recruiters were able to inform attendees about DLA's mission and job opportunities. Established in 1789, Georgetown is the nation's oldest Catholic and Jesuit university. Georgetown has grown to be a major international research university with eight schools, an affiliated hospital and many highly ranked academic programs. The university has more than 12,000 undergraduate and graduate students.